No Surgical Operation Performed!

Chronic Diseases Cured!

Acute Pain Instantly Relieved

The Lame Walk! The Blind See The Deaf Hear!

Over 200,000 Patients Treated in Ten Years.

Dr. Dodge's Practice is mostly diseases of a Chronic nature, and cases given up as incurable. It is treatment is peculiar to himself, although there have been men in all ages who have had this same Magnetic Power over the diseases of the body and mind. Some call it the "Gift of Healing," yet few have possessed it to such an extent over nearly all diseases that present. It is a life and vitality passed from a strong, healthy body to a weak one, that restores the lost or unequal circulation of the vital or nervous fluid. So powerful is this influence, that persons who have for many years suffered from diseases which have been pronounced incurable, and to whom medicine has been administered with no good effect, have been restored to health in an incredible short space of time. It will not restore a lost member of the body, or perform other impossibilities, but it will always relieve pain, from whatever cause. The practice is based upon the most strict principles of science; there is nothing miraculous or supernatural about it; it is in harmony with all natural laws. Many eminent physicians of other practices not only acknowledge this power, but receive the treatment for themselves and families, as well as advise it to their patients.

By this treatment it takes but a few minutes for inveterate cases of almost any curable Chronic disease; and so sure is the effect that but few diseases require a second treatment, except Deafness, Bone or Bones Dislocation, and Curvature of the Spine and Suppurating Tumors.

The diseases which yield most readily to the curative agency of this method, as practiced by us, are: Dyspepsia, Constipation, Asthma, Angina Pectoris, Chlorosis, Loss of Voice, Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, Liver Disease, all kinds of Sexual Weakness, Diabetes, Headache, Nervous Irritation of the Brain, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Diseases of the Heart, Eruptive Diseases, Convulsions, Hysteria, Neuralgia, Thrush, Congestion or Spleen, Irritation of Stomach, Diseases of Kidneys, Ulceration and displacement of the Womb, Morbid Appetite, Wakefulness, General Debility, Weak Spine, Nervous Depression, Difficult Breathing with Pain in the Side, Back and Limbs, Eyes of every description, Discharges from the Ears, Noise in the Head, Cancers, Tumors, Piles, Stuttering, etc.

Dr. Dodge has, in connection with his peculiar treatment, discovered a Specific for that terrible disease, Epileptic Fits, and particularly invites those afflicted with the Spasms.

Paralysis, Consumption and General Dropsy are the most slow and uncertain with this treatment. Patients afflicted with these have rarely been restored. They are, however, always benefited.

Read the Following Affidavits.

REMARKABLE CURE.—This is to certify that I have not spoken one word above a whisper since seven years ago last August, until I came to the rooms of Dr. Dodge at the Trumbull House, in the city of Hartford, when by one treatment, not exceeding one minute, by the doctor, my voice is perfectly restored. MRS. ROBERT A. MITCHELL,

Portland, Conn.

We, the undersigned citizens of Hartford, being personally acquainted with Mrs. Mitchell, hereby certify that the above statements are true:

After having tried all the most eminent physicians I called upon Dr. Dodge, at "Bagg's Hotel," in the city of Utica, N. Y., and in less time than one minute, without medicine or instruments, my voice was perfectly restored. Will answer any inquiries.

THE HENDERSON

Self-Feeding Base Burning

FURNACES!

The unprecedented sale of this Improved Heater, since its introduction in September, 1868, is alone argumentative of its worth.

While so much is being written about the pernicious effects of furnace heat generally on health, and while each and all recognize from actual experience its truthfulness, the testimony daily given by those who are using us are competent judges of the qualities of the Henderson Heater, contrary the belief that in its Great Evaporation of Water, the needed improvement has been effected.

How to Fit Spectacles.

In all the recent works on the eye, the subject of accommodation, or the fitting of glasses, receives the largest share of attention. Considering its extensive application, it is regarded as the most valuable result derived from the recent advances in ophthalmic science.

Structure of the Eye.

The eye is simply an optical instrument, composed of an object glass (the cornea), an eye glass (the crystalline lens) and a screen (the retina), which is the organ of vision. In order that any object may be distinctly visible, it is necessary that a perfect picture of it should be formed upon the retina, which is simply a mirror covering the back part of the eye. The form and relative position of the cornea and crystalline, like the form and relative position of the object glass and eye glass of a telescope, may be mathematically determined, and their defects may be remedied by auxiliary lenses, or spectacles. These auxiliary lenses should correspond with mathematical accuracy to the defects of the lenses of the eye, and to insure an absolutely perfect fit, it is only necessary to devise some means of measuring the refractive power of the eye.

Near and Far Sight.

When in its normal condition, the eye is capable of seeing near as well as remote objects. This is accomplished through the accommodative action of the crystalline lens, which becomes more or less refractive according to the direction in which rays of light enter the eye—whether parallel or divergent. When presbyopia comes on, which results in what is called "far-sightedness," the crystalline becomes incapable of uniting divergent rays upon the retina, and they would, if continued, meet at a point behind it. In the myopic or near-sighted eye the elongation of the ball and the high refractive power of the cornea bring the rays to a focus in front of the retina. Both of these results are wholly incompatible with distinct vision, which is only produced when the rays are brought to a focus on the retina. The object sought then in fitting glasses, whether for near or far sightedness, is to bring the rays to a focus exactly on the retina, without calling into exercise the accommodative action of the crystalline.

Why Accuracy is Required.

It is important that when the eye is being used, the crystalline should remain in a passive state. If an effort is made to read with glasses too strong or too weak, a constant tension is kept up on the ciliary muscles which operate the crystalline. This not only prevents the full development of the sight, but it hastens the deterioration of the eye, and necessitates a gradual increase in the strength of the glasses.

Mathematical Formulæ.

The rules for accomplishing this object were first devised by Professor Donders of Utrecht, whose method is the only one now in use. It is necessary, to ascertain first, at what distances Snellen's test types, subtending at different distances an angle of one minute, can be read. Prof. Donders proposes that the near point of distinct vision thus ascertained shall be designated by P and the far point $\frac{1}{R}$ by R. Representing the adaptive power by $\frac{1}{A}$, its value in any case can be determined by the formula,

THE PRESS.

Thursday Morning, September 30, 1869.

GOLD CLOSED in New York last night at 131 1-2.

THE PRESS has of late been printed upon very poor paper. We have been quite unfortunate in this respect, and have tried to remedy the defect by a change in place of purchase, but without improvement. We hope our readers will have patience for a time longer, when all couse for complaint in this particular shall be removed.

Liberalism in France.

The substitution of a liberal for a despotic government is one of the most hazardous operations in a nation's existence and if not judiciously managed, its immediate results are morally certain to be disastrous. Light and darkness are not more dissimilar than liberty and despotism. The qualities which make a loyal and obedient subject do not produce the manly and self reliant citizen. Human nature when habituated to subjection, cannot at once adapt itself to the new and radically different conditions in which it finds itself under a popular government. Under these circumstances it is as natural to abuse liberty and run into excess as for a child who, having been accustomed to the care and guidance of a parent, is suddenly and without previous preparation, launched upon the larger opportunities for good and evil which the absence of restraint enables him to enjoy. A man born blind and suddenly restored to sight, would hardly be more at a loss how to conduct himself. The transformation of the subject into the citizen requires time and special training. To avoid danger the change must proceed gradually, so that each stage of progress will be calculated to form habits suited to the exigencies that are to follow. A government is not like an unused edifice which can be torn down and replaced by another built up from the foundations. Its protection is needed while the repairs are going on. The transition must be like the renewal of the human body in which decay and renovation proceed particle by particle.

The development of the British Constitution has been thus gradual and beneficent. Authority has yielded fast enough to admit of progress without giving place to anarchy. Each successive struggle has been sufficiently severe and protracted to discipline the victors for their triumph, and to make them respect their antagonists enough to use success with moderation. But the change has been going on for centuries and is not yet completed.

It is not however in every institution that this happy balance is to be found. Rulers are prone in their short-sightedness, to weaken opposition to authority by stifling the nobler aspirations of their people. These aspirations can only assert themselves with success when the government becomes too weak either to guide them with a firm hand, or to offer such a resistance as shall inspire respect and compel moderation. This has been the case with France. Three times has she attempted to realize her dreams of liberty. The first time the passion of revolution triumphing almost without a struggle over the contemptible resistance offered by the weak government of Louis XVI., spent itself in wild and brutal excesses at which mankind shuddered, and short-lived experiments first with one constitution and then with another. These experiments were cut short by a despotism which overtook them in the midst and the people weary with incessant commotion, willingly yielded to it for the repose it promised. The revolution of 1830 procured but a change of masters, while in 1848 a republic was once more attempted and superseded as before by an empire.

The present emperor shows a disposition to profit by the experience of his predecessors. As successive elections admonish him of the growth of liberal sentiments, he has sagacity enough to discover that it will be prudent to yield to the spirit of reform while he remains strong enough to guide it. He does not disdain even to learn something from his British neighbor and rival. If he can make France a constitutional monarchy with a responsible ministry, and can live long enough to consolidate his reforms, he will deserve the credit of doing more for the emancipation of France than any previous ruler. Happy will it be for France, happy for him and for his dynasty, if he perseveres resolutely and faithfully in the work he has inaugurated. The danger is that by a vacillation and inconstancy which sometimes characterizes his conduct, he may undo what is so auspiciously begun. A prophetic faith and a profound, comprehensive and unselfish sympathy with the aspirations of humanity, must constitute elements in statesmanship of the highest order. An enlightened selfishness is the highest statesmanship of which a Bonaparte can conceive. If the Emperor can exhibit even this he may perpetuate his dynasty. Otherwise his last days may exhibit the same example of lost prestige as those of Louis XIV., and when he dies he will expire amid the dissolving elements of that empire which he has made it his life work to consolidate.

To What Do Our Tickets Entitle Us?

There has been much newspaper comment upon the Curtis-Churchill difficulty which arose from the latter gentleman taking a car seat which the former had mentally reserved for a friend whom he thought might perhaps ride home upon that train. So far as we have seen, the discussion has been confined to the merits of the quarrel between these parties and to the propriety of the sentence of imprisonment inflicted upon Mr. Curtis for his assault. We think, however, that there is an aspect of this case which concerns the railroad company in whose car it occurred. It is certainly evidence of an insufficient comprehension of the duty devolving upon common carriers of passengers that, upon one of the best managed roads in the country, ticket-holders are left to test the right to a seat by the exertion of physical strength. Common carriers of freight are held to be liable for its safe carriage except from causes arising from the act of God or of the public enemy. They are insurers of the goods committed to their care. Can it be that their responsibility is any less with reference to the lives, limbs and comfort of the passengers carried by them, at much higher rates of transportation? Have the companies a right to leave it to the sense of justice or courtesy of one's fellow-travellers to say whether or not he shall be permitted to occupy the seat for which he has paid? Ought they to allow one passenger to take up two or four seats, while another, who has paid full price for his ticket, is thereby compelled to stand? Yet this matter is always left to be regulated by the conscience or the courtesy of the passengers. Rarely, if ever, do the managers of the train seem to consider it within the scope of their duty to see that the traveller has his rights awarded him. Clearly these officials ought to regulate the matter. These corporations are bound to something more than mere transportation of the bodies of the passengers; they are bound to exercise due regard for the comfort of their customers. They have valuable franchises, great privileges and arbitrary power granted to them by their charters. They take our lands, cut up our farms, run through our orchards, or door-yards, cut down our fruit or ornamental trees, and devastate our homesteads at their own good pleasure, and we are powerless to resist. In return we have a right to demand that they shall give to the people all the advantages of safe, speedy and comfortable transportation reasonably at command and at reasonable rates. If they allow one passenger by indecent language or action to disturb the peace and comfort of his fellows, and thereby invade their rights, they are morally and legally responsible for the outrage which they can, and the traveller cannot, prevent.

This obligation, as resting upon the proprietors of a passenger vessel, was laid down by Judge Story in Chamberlain v. Chandler, 3 Mason's Rep., 245, in terms equally applicable to carriers by land: "The contract," he says, "is not for mere ship-room and personal existence; but for reasonable food, comforts, necessaries and kindness. It is a stipulation, not for toleration merely, but for respectful treatment, for that decency of demeanor which constitutes the charm of social life, for that attention which mitigates evils without reluctance, and that promptitude which administers aid to distress." And this "decency of demeanor" and "respectful treatment" the railroad companies ought to enforce between the passengers they carry, as well as on the part of its employees. But of course it shows a greater disregard of the rights and interests of the public to retain in the service of a corporotion those who are uncivil and indecent in behavior, than it does to overlook occasional transgressions on the part of passengers not so absolutely under the control of the company.

Political Notes.

THE Republicans of Philadelphia have outdoor mass meetings every evening this week.

THE Cincinnati Commercial would like to have Charles Franris Adams or Parke Goodwin sent to Spain in place of Gen. Sickles.

ADVICES from the political campaign in Mississippi are conflicting, and differ in accordance with the political views of those from whom the accounts are received. Both parties claim the State. It is, therefore, difficult to get at the truth.

THE Natchez, Miss., Courier, which has heretofore urged the nomination of a straightout Democratic State ticket, has been finally induced to support the nominees of the National Union Republican Party. Nearly all the Democrats are hard working for Judge Dent.

THE excitement over the struggle for Senators in Virginia increases every day, and it is estimated that possibly a Radical Republican may be chosen to fill one of the places. Alexander Sharp, late Postmaster at Richmond, and brother-in-law of the President, has been brought prominently forward by the Conservatives.

Why Tammany "big injuns" want August Belmont removed from the Presidency of the National Democratic Committee is said to be in a "gold" bearing nutshell. They say he "was interested in defeating the Democratic tickets which was pledged to the taxation of government bonds and their early payment in greenbacks except when coin was expressly agreed upon. So that cat's out of the meal-tub.

ONE of the orators at a Copperhead meeting in Pennsylvania, eulogised Asa Parker in the course of a biographical sketch, and, among other heroic deeds of his life, mentioned his leap from the carpenter's bench to the deck of a canal boat, in the following words: "He became a farmer, and then a carpenter; but the carpenter's plane was too slow an instrument for the push that was in him. He became a navigator on the canal."

HON. Alexander H. Rives and James G. Paxton have published a card, in which they say that while the President said to them he should be glad to see so good a man as General Williams elected as senator from Virginia, he did not declare that General Williams was his choice. On the contrary, he said he was aware several gentlemen were named for this position in whom he had perfect confidence, including General Wickham and Dr. Sharp.

GENERAL N. B. Forrest has written a sharp letter, denouncing a fire-eating Southern editor who spoke of his associating with persons with whom he does not agree politically as disgraceful and disgusting. He says he is engaged in building a railroad which will be of vast advantage to Alabama, Mississipi and Tennessee, and that in his opinion the accomplishment of this enterprise is an object worthy the ambition of any man, and to one who loves his country and humbly seeks to serve the interests of his fellow-citizens, is far above the considerations of mere partisan politics. He adds that his object has been to bring peace to the country and prosperity to the people; to soften down the prejudices of men of both parties, and in the development of the great material interests of the country, to smooth the asperities engendered by the war, and efface alike the marks and the memories of strife.

THE following summing up of candidates for the nomination for Congress in Mr. Boutwell's District is from the Springfield Republican: "In the seventh district, things are crystalizing round two or three points, and the candidates are growing less in number. Daniel Needham wishes to be counted out, to which nobody objects; Thomas Rice will probably run for Councilor rather than Congress, and all the Richardsons have concentrated on Daniel S. of that name. Dr. Hitchcock, who has never been in Congress, will not begin to go this year, and Joshua N. Marshall, though a good candidate, lacks supporters. At present, Dr. Ayer and Mr. I. N. Johnson are the two most pushing candidates; the former has control of about half of Lowell, and several other towns are set down as sure for him; while Mr. Johnson has nearly all the Newton delegation, and will be strong in the six Norfolk towns and in that part of Middlesex which joins Norfolk. He is the head of the firm of Johnson & Thompson, in the leather trade, an upright merchant, who has traveled in Europe and served in our Legislature. A third candidate, who may prove stronger than either, is George M. Brooks of Concord, well known and respected all through Middlesex county, where he has practiced law for many years. The convention is not yet called; it will probably meet in Concord, and should contain 112 delegates, of whom Lowell sends 22."

Bangor Centennial Celebration.

The trains from this city yesterday took down to Bangor the Germania and Portland Bands, together with a large number of the Odd Fellows, Temperance, Masonic and other orders, to participate in the centennial birthday of Bangor.

The arrangements made at Bangor, for the celebration, are of the most ample character, and well worthy of the citizens of that place. The celebration takes place to-day and the programme is as follows:

FORENOON.

Overture by the Portland Band; prayer by Rev. Enoch Pond, D.D.; Pilgrim Chorus, Verdi, by the Penobscot Musical Association, with orchestral accompaniment by the Germania Band; remarks by his Honor, Mayor Thurston, preliminary to the organization; Centennial Hymn, written by Mrs. Fannie L. Mace; address by Hon. John E. Godfrey; Music, the "Star Spangled Banner," with accompaniment by the three bands, the audience uniting in the chorus; poem, written by Mrs. E. L. Crosby, and read by Rev. George E. Adams, D.D.; National Hymn, to the tune of America, in singing, which all the audience are requested to unite; Benediction by Rev. C. C. Everett; Music by the Germania and Bangor Cornet Bands.

AFTERNOON.

At two o'clock there will be an exhibition of playing by the fire engines; Regatta at four o'clock, the regatta will come off on the Penobscot river, in which batteaus, canoes, &c., will enter into a lively competition for the prizes offered; the Centennary Dinner will take place at Norombega Hall at six o'clock, for which ample and extensive preparations have been made, and which will be a "feast of reason and a flow of soul." In the evening there will be bon-fires, illuminations,—in which all our citizens are requested to unite—music by the different bands in various parts of the city, and a good time generally.

SEVERAL days ago, Rev. C.C. Everett, of Bangor, announced his determination to sever his connection with the Independent Congregational Society of that city, in order to accept a Professorship in the Divinity School at Cambridge. The matter was formally introduced by a letter from Mr. Everett, at a meeting of the Society Tuesday, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we accept the resignation of the Rev. Charles Carroll Everett, and consent that our connections as pastor and people shall terminate on the fourth day of October next according to request; and while we thus shape our course in conformity with his desires, we cannot sunder the tie without expressing our sorrow that the enlarged field of usefulness he is called to occupy, cannot be made to include the special place he has for the last ten years held in our Society—which he has filled so acceptably, and we hope we may say, so profitably to us—a place he now only leaves because our deepfelt gratitude for faithful service as a pastor, our high appreciation of learning and mental ability, our esteem for moral worth and Christian character, cannot overpower his own wishes and the claims of our fellow Christians.

Resolved, That in complying with the request of President Elliot, we feel that we confer a favor upon the Divinity School in Cambridge, by aiding it to include among the teachers, a ripe scholar and a Christian gentleman, and to all who there may seek to learn how rightly to influence their fellow men, we commend the character and life of Charles Carroll Everett as affording an excellent example of learning without pedantry, intellectual strength without pride, gentleness of manner with dignity and decision in adherence to the right, liberality in sentiment with firm convictions in belief, patience towards error, and perseverance in all good undertakings.

By a subsequent vote the resolutions were ordered to be communicated to Mr. Everett and the proceedings to be published.

SINCE Charles II. apologized for the unconscionable time he took in dying there has been no so patient a patient as the Emperor Napoleon. According to a Paris paper he takes everything that is offered, including advice. When he is told he is better he says, "Then I'll get up;" and when advised that he had better not, he lies down again. To his four physicians he says: "I give you a great deal of trouble, gentlemen; I make you lose a great deal of time; I am very sorry for it." The physicians receive letters from all quarters with thousands of suggestions and prescriptions, which would compel the Emperor, if he tried them all, to live for at least a century to come.

NEW YORK REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Large Attendance and Harmonious Action.

Resolutions, Nominations, &c., &c., &c.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 29.—The Republican State Convention met and temporarily organized by the choice of Dewitt C. Littlejohn as president. He addressed the Convention, saying that the assembling of such a large number of delegates was an earnest that their power would give the State to the Republican party, to whom it rightfully belonged.

The convention was permanently organized by the election of Hon. John A. Griswold as president.

Ex-Senator Wadden from the committee appointed at the last State Convention, to harmonize the party in New York City, presented a report which was adopted, that the new organization in New York, provided for in the report, be declared the regular organization of that city.

Judge Pierrepont from the committee on resolutions presented the following, prefacing their reading with reference to the various topics touched upon in them. The Republicans of New York in Convention assembled, report to the people and declare the following principles:

Resolved, That the public debt, both principal and interest, shall be paid in coin as the same matures, and that repudiation of any part thereof, either directly or indirectly, or by any device or subterfuge, would bring dishonor upon the nation and demoralization and disaster upon the people.

Resolved, That taxation ought to be equal and simple, and rendered as little burdensome to citizens as the nature of the case will possibly allow.

Resolved, That the Government is bound by the most sacred obligations to protect its citizens, whether of native or foreign birth, wherever they may go.

Resolved, That every American citizen, whether naturalized or native, should have an equal right to suffrage without regard to nation, race or religion.

Resolved, That the 15th amendment to the Constitution of the United States, as proposed, ought to be adopted.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with all people everywhere who are downtrodden and oppressed by privileged classes or by unjust rule.

Resolved, That the great success and prosperity of our Government under the guidance of Divine Providence imposes upon us duties towards our Cuban neighbors, who imitating the example of our fathers, are struggling for liberty against an oppressive Government, in which they are allowed no representative, and in whose administration they have no share; that, whenever the facts in the possession of our Government will justify the recognition of Cuban belligerency, we shall heartily approve such recognition and pledge our cordial support to any action on the part of the Government tending to the final annexation of Cuba, whenever she shall have achieved her independence and her people desire such action.

Resolved, That we heartily congratulate our countrymen of all parties on the peace, order and security almost universally realized under the wise, firm, moderate and frugal rule of President Grant and his chosen councilors, and we point with pride to the activity and prosperity of our national industry, to our abundant revenue, restored credit and rapidly diminishing public debt as demonstrations of the patriotic wisdom of the people evinced in their latest choice of President and Vice President.

Resolved, That the maintenance of our system of public education and common schools is essential to the preservation of a Republican Government and to the advancement of intelligence and civilization, and that we are opposed to every attempt on the part of our State Legislature to appropriate any money of the people to the support of sectrian schools, or the division of the school funds to the maintenance of any sectarian institution.

Resolved, That the Republican party is now, as it ever has been, the true friend of the canals of the State, and we believe it is the true policy so to increase the facilities for the navigation thereof as to insure to all connected therewith a safe and speedy transmission of property, and with a consequent increased business warrants a reduction of tolls to a point which shall simply secure their safe navigation, defray the cost of their proper maintenance and insure the speedy extinguishment of the canal debt.

Resolved, That we request our next Legislature to pass laws which will secure the right of every legal voter, whether native or naturalized, against invasion and overthrow by such frauds as deprived Grant and Colfax of the electoral vote of this State and John A. Griswold and those on the same ticket of the office to which they were fairly elected.

Resolved, That as the sale of intoxicating liquors is recognized by the laws of civilized countries, as well as by both political parties in this State, as a proper subject of legislative restraint, and as there is a diversity of opinion in the Republican party as to the extent to which legal restraint ought to be carried, and as the present State law outside of New York city requires the petition of twenty-five freeholders as a condition of license, that whenever a majority of the legal voters of any town shall remonstrate against such sale no license out to be granted until a similar majority petition therefor; and that this is in harmony with the great doctrine of the right of the majority to rule.

After debate, on motion, the resolutions reported by the committee were adopted and Mr. O'Donnell's resolution was final'y tabled by a vote of 223 to 153.

Gen. Cochrane moved a resolution acknowledging the bereavment of the country in the loss of Gen. Rawlins, late Secretary of War.

Gen. Sharpe of Ulster, sustained the resolution in an eulogistic address, and it was adopted by a standing vote.

The Convention, then on motion, proceeded to nominate candidates:

Gen. Franz Sigel was nominated for Engineer and Surveyor, when Mr. La Baugh announced that he had a telegram from Gen. Sigel, stating that he could not, on account of ill health accept any nomination.

Mr. Thomas Scatfield was nominated unanimously as Treasurer.

Mr. Martin I. Townsend of Rensselaer, was unanimously nominated for Attorney General, amid a round of cheers. Several candidates for State Prison Inspectors were proposed and their claims earnestly advocated. Finally, Mr. Daniel D. Conaver of New York, was nominated in a ballot and his nomination made unanimous.

Delafield Smith moved that Judges Woodruff and Manson be re-nominated by acclamation for the long and short terms of the Court of Appeals, which was carried.

A State Central Committee consisting of one member from each Congressional district was appointed, and the Convention adjourned.

THE Overland Monthly for October is received. It is published in San Francisco and reflects credit upon the literary enterprise of its publishers. It is a first-class monthly, gotten up in the same style as the Atlantic. The contents of this number are as follows: Knapsack and Blanket; Are Our Public Schools a Failure? No. 2; Why She never Married Charley; Our Antipodean Cousin; Un Pasear en Grande; Exile; Autographomania; The Sea-Lion at Home; I cannot Count my Life a Loss; Geological Notes from Oregon; Tennessee's Partner; The Cruise of the "Monadnock," No. 3; Ballad to the King; The North-West; Etc.; Current Literature.

NUMBER 3 of Buzzell's Health Journal is published and contains an article entitled "How We Drown and are Resuscitated," by Dr. Charles Lancaster; also valuable articles upon "Nursing," "The Dysentery" and "Dentition," besides practical suggestions and a variety of miscellaneous reading.

Five Per Cent. a Month.

[From the San Francisco Times.]

The following venerable document has turned up in a suit commenced in the Fourth District Court by John W. Geary against A. Hollub, administrator of the estate of Bezer Simmons some time deceased—to wit, since 1851:

$62,000. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11, 1856.

For value received, we promise to pay to John W. Geary or order $62,000, on demand, with interest at five per cent. per month.

SIMMNOS, HUTCHINSON & Co.

After the necessary averments to bar the statute of limitations, plaintiff prays judgment for $765,100, with interest thereon from July 11, 1869, at five per cent. per month. Alas! for the good old ways. The mere sound of "five per cent. per month" hath now something unctuous and soothing to the ear. It brings a holy calm upon the spirit of the money lender, and steeps his soul in a pleasing melancholy. We understand that in the present case plaintiff is not disposed to press for the full amount of his claim, but is willing to omit the principal upon payment of the $703,100 interest—compounded, however, since July!

THE President has appointed Hon. Frederick F. Low of California Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to China, and the country will recognize a peculiar fitness in the appointment so far as locality is concerned. Although not a trained diplomat, it is to be presumed that he is a gentleman of ability and culture.

Mr. Low was a member of the 37th Congress from California and was elected Governor of that State in 1863 for a term of four years, discharging the duties of the office with marked ability.

BY an act of the last Legislature, consolidating for the purposes of harmony in action the Board of Agriculture and the College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, it is made the duty of the Governor to appoint five members at large to act with the boards in their deliberations. The following gentlemen have been appointed: M. C. Fernald of Orono; —— Peckham, of Orono; Charles E. Hamlen of Waterville; Cyrus F. Brackett of Brunswick; George L. Goodale of Brunswick.

TRIUMPH Engine Company No. 1, of Biddeford, having accepted the challenge of the Pacific Engine Company No. 4, of Augusta, to play for a tin trumpet ten feet in length, the contest will take place Saturday afternoon, at five o'clock. The tubs will play in the respective cities where they belong. A committee of two, selected by the Pacifics, will visit Biddeford as judges, the Biddeford company sending two to Augusta for the same purpose. The result of the contest will be announced to each company by telegraph.

[A gentleman of this city, attending the Odd Fellows' celebration at San Francisco in in a representative capacity, writes a pleasant letter to a friend, who kindly permits us to publish the following extract:]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 19, 1869.

* * * We had a comfortable passage across from Omaha, though a little crowded. We left at 10, A. M. on Friday, and reached Sacramento the next Tuesday at sunset; three hours behind time. Stopped one day in Sacramento by invitation of the Grand Lodge of California, to assist in laying a corner stone of an Odd Fellows Hall. Thursday at 5:30 A M. we left for this city via Western Pacific railroad; got out about twenty miles, when the engine broke down delaying us two hours. We reached Alamoda just across the bay from this city, at 3 o'clock, where we had a splendid collation given by Bro. Nathan Foster, formerly of Rhode Island, after which we crossed the ferry (6 miles) and reached this city at 4 o'clock, where a splendid collation awaited us. The long procession was formed, headed by a military company, and as we marched through the densely packed streets, our faces were closely scanned by the people, each one endeavoring to discover an acquaintance amongst our number, and some were successful. We were escorted to the California theatre, where the speeches of welcome and responses were made, after which we were escorted to our hotels. Friday, there was an excursion about the harbor and out to the "Golden Gate" Yesterday we looked about town and delivered our letters. We also had the pleasure of meeting Messrs. Dingley and Ham, of Lewiston. Our greetings were cordial. They were well and enjoying themselves hugely.

SUNDAY IN SAN FRANCISCO.

To-day is Sunday and such a Sunday! The first thing I heard on waking was the beating of a tenor drum, the omnibuses running as usual, and many of the stores open. After breakfast there was a drunken fight before our window. Then we went to visit a Chinese Joss House, or church, in company with a Chinese interpreter. We went from there to Dr. Stebbins's church, heard him preach, and afterwards had a few minutes' conversation with him. He seemed very cordial and glad to see us. After dinner we were treated to a German procession, containing five bands, as many or more military companies, numerous societies on foot and in carriage; altogether about a half hour long. On the whole a very singular Sunday experience. We have received the Press from the 4th to the 9th, which has posted us in regard to local matters in Portland. To-morrow we set ourselves down to do the work we came here to do—that being done I shall be quite ready to bend my steps homeward.

One hundred and fifty-three men, mostly Cubans left New York Saturday night for a destination non-revealed. The Assistance Fire Company of Philadelphia arrived in Boston yesterday. Among the friends who met them at the station, was Mr. Wm. A. The organization of the Assistance dates back to 1764. After visiting Gloucester they will go to Salem, and will return to Boston on Friday, and take their departure for home on Saturday night.

A Washington despatch says, the appointment of Ex-Gov. Low as Minister to China, was in accordance with the supposed claims of the Pacific Coast, whose relations with China are closer and more important than those of any other section. It is also supposed that the residents of California have a better knowledge of the Chinese people and the requirements of the United States Legation in China than any others. The President was assured of Gov. Low's acceptance before the appointment was made. He has been notified of his appointment by telegraph.

OUR readers cannot fail to be struck with the continuous announcements of defalcations and irregularities on the part of officers of banks, insurance companies and other monied institutions. It does seem as though some means could be adopted, whereby these occurrences might be less frequent, if not stopped altogether. A feeling of disquietude and alarm among persons of small means, is the natural consequence of these frequent breaches of trust, and widows and orphans, old people and invalids, whose little all has been confided to the tender mercies of the financial agents of railroad, banking, manufacturing or insurance companies, find their faith in the integrity of the custodians of their funds sadly shaken and impaired. It is to be hoped that those having charge of these institutions will be awakened to the responsibility resting upon them, and adopt such additional precautionary measures for the protection of those confiding in their integrity and carefulness, as shall materially reduce the probability of their becoming victims of misplaced confidence.

YORK CONNTY.

A "little unpleasantness" occurred yesterday afternoon at a house near the covered bridge in Biddeford, in the course of which a sailor from Portland was stabbed several times in the shoulder by a lassie named Mary Berry, who is said to be one of those unamiable young creatures who sometimes get on the "rampage" and demean themselves in a very unbecoming and unladylike manner. The wounds are not supposed to be dangerous. Miss Mary fled after her exploit and several gentlemen wearing badges are trying to ascertain her whereabouts.

The sailor complains that his feelings were very much hurt, and doesn't think Biddeford a pleasant place to go to.

Review of the Portland Markets.

WEEK ENDING Sept. 29, 1869.

The business during the past week has been fair in all branches, though not approaching the activity of some past seasons. Still our merchants are hopeful and not disposed to complain. The gold flurry in New York affects our markets as well as others, and there is no disposition to make purchases beyond present necessities. The supplies are ample for all present demands and prices of commodities are regulated by prices abroad.

APPLES—The market is well supplied with Western fruit, which is selling at all prices. Prime Maine fruit brings $4@5 per bbl. As yet this fruit is not very plenty; but from all accounts we judge the crop of Maine fruit will be much larger than has been anticipated.

BEANS are plenty and the market is rather dull. Prices at our quotations are maintained.

BREAD is in better demand for all kinds, both hard and soft.

BUTTER is unchanged. The supply of prime family butter has not been equal to the demand. It is now coming in more freely. We quote it at 40@45. In cheese there has been no change.

COAL remains unchanged as to prices. There is no probability of lower prices this season.

COOPERAGE remains dull, but there is a little more demand than there has been for some months. Prices are without change.

DRY GOODS.—There is no change in the prices in either cotton or woolen goods. The sales during the past week have been quite large, though there has not been much animation. Purchases are made according to the immediate wants, and without any reference to speculation.

DRUGS AND DYES—There has been a further advance on alcohol. Rhubarb is lower. The business transactions have been very fair.

DUCK—Portland ducks remain unchanged as to prices, with a good demand for all of their manufactures.

FISH,—The receipts of dry fish has been very light during the past week, with no change in prices, except on Western Bank cod, on which we note a decline of 50c per quintel. In mackeral there have been no receipts of Bay; but the shore receipts have been taken by dealers at full rates.

FLOUR—The market is dull and unsettled. The receipts are about equal to the sales. Spring wheats are a trifle lower. A comparison of the market at the present time with that one year ago shows a reduction of from four to five dollars per barrel on the prices of the high grades.

FRUIT—We have no change to make from last week. There are no oranges in the market. Peaches are done to. Grapes are now coming along freely and at low prices. We noticed yesterday, Concords retailing at 20c per lb.

GRAIN—There has been a slight reduction in corn from last week. The market is well supplied. In other grains we have no change to mention.

HAY—The market is unchanged. There is a better demand for shipping qualities. We quote prices at $14@18 per ton for pressed, the latter price for prime retailing.

IRON remains unchanged. The trade has been very fair for the season.

LEATHER—Prices are very firm, with a better demand for middling weights.

LUMBER is steady but there is an upward tendency, consequent upon the low state of water at the mills.

MOLASSES—The stocks are lighter than have been known for many years and holders are firm in prices. The troubles in Cuba have prevented the usual exports from that island and, consequently high prices must prevail. Portland Sugar House syrup is selling at 43c in bbls.

NAILS.—We quote an advance of 25c on nails. The manufacturers have found that they have been selling them without any profit. This fact, together with the low state of water at all the mills has induced an advance which will, undoubtedly be maintained.

OILS—There has been a slight advance on linseed, There is more demand for fish oils and they are firm at our quotations.

PLASTER is unchanged and there is a good supply in the market.

PRODUCE—We have no change to note except in eggs which are a little higher, and potatoes which have shaded off, and are coming in quite plenty and of a good quality.

PROVISIONS remain without change. The same may be said of rice, spices, teas and tobacco.

SALT—There have been no receipts kuring the week. The demand for fishing purposes and the country trade is good. The market is well supplied.

SUGAR—The excitement in the market has abated but prices are firm, both for raw and refined. Speculation, originating in the gold excitement of last week has subsided and the market has settled down upon what appears a firm basis. It is not supposed prices will go higher, neither is it supposed there will be any general decline. The stocks, both of raw and refined are not large, and, therefore, there is no chance for speculation The present stocks of both raw and refined sugars throughout the Union are not more than sufficient for the wants of the community.

TIN.—There has been a slight advance on pig tin since our last report. Under the late fluctuating prices of gold this advance cannot be maintained. Ties are paid for in gold, and thus their values fluctuate. In plate tins there has been no change and we continue our quotations.

WOOL is quiet. There is some demand from Western manufacturers, but there is no important change in prices.

FREIGHTS—We have not much to say, this week, upon freights. There is nothing offering. One vessel has been taken up for Queenstown, with orders, loaded with petroleum—terms private. It is too early for Cuban freights, and nothing is done in that way. Coastwise, some vessels have been taken up for the South at $8 per ton for hay to Savannah, and 30c per bbl for plaster. The freighting business is dull all around.

OCTOBER FASHIONS.—Our readers will not fail to read the elaborate article on Fall Fashions, in the last column on this page.

RECONSTRUCTED.—We are pleased to see the enterprise which our friend J. P. Smith shows in the arrangement of his hair rooms, 100 Exchange street. His window is in the hight of style. Human hair in ALL colors can be supplied at short notice. Look in and see him, and not take merely our word for it.

REV. BISHOP SCOTT ON CLOTHES WASHERS. We like our Doty Washing Machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of it we feel that we are masters of the position. On one occasion, the clothes were prepared, but the washerwoman failed us. We were not to be defeated in that way. I took hold (which of course I should not have done if we had no machine,) and in two and a half hours we put through eleven dozen pieces, many of which were sheets, and they were well done, too. We wish you great success.

PRETTY WOMEN.—A comparatively few Ladies monopolize the Beauty as well as attention of Society. This ought not to be so, but it is; and will be while men are foolish and single out pretty faces for companions.

This can all be changed by using Hogan's Magnolia Balm, which gives the Bloom of Youth, and a refined, sparkling Beauty to the Complexion, pleasing, powerful and natural.

No Lady need complain of a red, tanned, freckled or rustic Complexion who will invest 75 cents in Hogan's Magnolia Balm. Its effects are truly wonderful.

CRIMINAL TERM—GODDARD, J., PRESIDING.

WEDNESDAY.—State vs. Jotham S. Carlton. The jury came in with a verdict of guilty. Fined $20 and costs of prosecution.

In the case of State vs. Alexander Shea, indicted for the murder of Murray, the Attorney General stated that since the trial of Murphy the Government had discovered evidence which, taken with the testimony of Murphy on the stand, had convinced them that Shea was innocent of the crime charged against him. The Court, therefore, on motion of the Attorney General, entered a nol pros. Shea was recognized for his appearance as a witness at the January term.

Saturday morning next was assigned for arguing the motion to set aside the verdict in the case of State vs. Francis Murphy.

State vs. Charles A. Dalton. Indicted for assault on Harry Leighton, in Windham, on the 26th of August, 1868. The testimony tended to show that there was some trouble between the defendant and Leighton, who is his father-in-law, in regard to the title to a piece of land, of which Leighton was in possession: that on the day alleged Dalton came on to this land, where Leighton was at work mowing, and standing within three feet of him with a pitch-fork pointed towards him, threatened to run him through, at the same time making motions to that effect; that Leighton backed back, keeping him off with a scythe until he regained his house, some twenty rods distant.

The defendant admitted that he threatened Leighton, but claimed that he was first assaulted, and that his motions were in self defence. The defendant introduced testimony impeaching the reputation of Leighton for truth and veracity. Verdict, not guilty.

Cumberland County Medical Convention.

MORNING SESSION.

The 17th session of the Cumberland County Medical Society, was held in this city yesterday. Dr. Bates, President in the chair. After the records of the last meeting, Dr. De Wolf read a paper on cholera morbus, in which he clearly pointed out the nature of the disease, its symptoms, diagnosis, prognosis and treatment.

The discusion of this affection was quite extended, and was participated in by Drs. Robinson, Hall, Small, French and Foster.

Several of the members spoke very strongly in favor of the hypodermis injections of sulphate of morphia in this disease, after free evacuation of the stomach and bowels.

Its action was more prompt and decided than when given by the mouth. Dr. Fitch made a verbal report of a very interesting and rare case of scirrhus of uterus. The pathological specimen was exhibited to the society. By the request of the society that Dr. agreed to prepare and present to the association a paper on the general subject of malignant diseases of the uterus.

Dr. Small read an extract from Dr. Routh's essay, presented to the London obstetcal society, and published in the Jan. No. of Braithwaite, 1867, settiug fourth the use of Bromine locally applied in cases of epithelial cancer of the neck of the uterus.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

In the absence of Dr. E. N. Tewksbury to whom the subject of mammary abscesses had been assigned for an essay, the disease was introduced for discussion. The complaint was an important one, and from its frequent occurrence, the great suffering which it occasions, called out remarks and observations from nearly all present. After the close of this discussion, Dr. Gordon read a paper on diseases of the rectum. The Dr.'s essay was mainly made up from notes of interesting cases occuring in his practice. As this was a broad field, the discussion took a wide range, including stricture of rectum, prolapsus of the anus, "fistula in ano," and fissure of the anus. During the discussion the general plan of treatment, and the various methods of operating were dwelt upon at considerable length. At the close of the debate, the President announced the following subjects for next meeting:—Appoplexy, Dr. A. S. Thayer. Typhoid fever, Dr. H. N. Small. Diseases of bladder, Dr. T. A. Foster. Asthma, Dr. J. M. Bates. Reduction of dislocations, Dr. W. W. Greene. Fibrous Tumors of Uterus, Dr. Wm. C. Robinson.

RUNAWAYS. — Yesterday morning a three horse team attached to a heavy country wagon ran from the New York steamboat wharf up to Commercial street at full speed, and knocked into a wagon standing in front of Blake, Jones & Co., completely demolishing the wagon, while the horse attached to it never flinched a hair, but stood firm as a Roman sentinel, and then took to the railroad track and went through the Grand Trunk depot like a tornado, bringing up against a milk car with such force as to bring the leader down on his knees, when they were secured. It was a high old time while the excitement lasted.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a horse belonging to Messrs. Owen & Barber became frightened by a street car on Congress street, and ran away with his driver, a son of Mr. Barber. He struck the lamp post at the corner of Congress and Pearl streets, throwing the boy out and clearing himself from the wagon. After sundry mysterious evolutions and collisions with teams, the horse was stopped on Market street, and was probably hurt but little. The boy had his forearm broken by being thrown from the wagon.

THE A. & H. A. COMPANY.—The Boston Journal states that orders have been issued to the company to meet at their armory, in complete uniform, next Monday morning at 7 1-2 o'clock, preparatory to taking the cars at 10 o'clock for this city. The corps will stop at Exeter twenty minutes for refreshments, and will arrive in Portland about 2 1-2 o'clock P. M. A special car and locomotive, placed at the disposal of the Portland Reception Committee by Mr. Chase, Superintendent of the P. S. & P. Railroad, will leave the depot in this city at 10 3-4 o'clock A. M. for South Berwick Junction, where they will meet the special train containing the Ancients and Honorables. General Lawrence expects every member to take part in the excursion.

EXCURSION TO ALFRED.—Our merchants had a day of unexceptionable beauty and salubrity yesterday for their excursion. Not more than seventy-five, however, availed themselves of the opportunity. They reached Alfred in two hours, and then the party separated, each following "his own sweet will," some taking teams to the Shaker village, while others went to Court and sat demurely listening to the claims of a bar tender who brings a suit against a rumseller for services. Another tells us of his search for a squirrel, and another of a delightful ramble in the woods. On the whole, it was quite an enjoyable trip.

RATHER CONVENIENT.—The Superintendent of the horse cars intends to run his Spring Street line this and to morrow evening to help the concert goers—Instead of running to Grand Trunk in the evening, they will turn the corner at Pearl Street and take the passengers at City Hall, and also pick them up at the close. This will suit the crowd that intend to visit this popular entertainment on those evenings. It is by this management that the road will meet the wants of the citizens on that line at the upper part of the city, and make itself useful at the very time, where Utility comes in as a prime virtue.

THEATRE.—"Ten Nights in a Bar-room" was excellently performed at the Theatre last night and Mr. Roche as "John "Morgan" created a a decided impression. To-night the favorite drama of "Cyntha, the Gipsy Queen" with Miss Bidwell in the title role.

THE OSWEGO CONVENTION.—The adjourned meeting of last Saturday evening will be held to-night, at Reception Hall, City Building, when the committee appointed to select delegates to the Oswego Convention will report.

The Portland Pension Agency.

As a few statistics in regard to the Portland Pension Agency may not be uninteresting to our readers, we hereby chronicle what information we have been able to acquire. Prior to the rebellion there was but one agency in the State, the Maine Pension Agency, which was located in this city for many years, but shortly before the war it was removed to Augusta, and, as soon as the rolls were sufficiently large to warrant it, the agency was divided into three agencies, one at Portland, one at Augusta, and one at Bangor. These agencies combined include about 10,000 pensioners, divided nearly equally among them. The Portland office bears about 3300 pensioners on its roll. Rising 2600 of these have been paid during the present month, commencing the 4th day, a sum amounting very nearly to $175,000; the rest will probably send in their vouchers by mail, day by day for quite a little while. The whole amount paid out for the year at the Portland office is some $425,000.

Since the war there have been only two gentlemen connected with the office in this city.—Mr. Henry Willis being appointed in 1862, and continuing to fulfill all its duties faithfully and successfully until his death, March 16th, 1868, and Mr. Monroe A. Blanchard, the present incumbent, who was appointed March 20th, 1868, but did not take charge until April of that year.

It will be seen that the sums dispensed are large, and that the duties of the office require good judgment and good care, and we are pleased to know that these qualities are centered in an eminent degree in Mr. Blanchard.—We are also pleased to be able to state that the U. S. Inspectors consider this the best arranged pension office in the United States.

Under recent arrangements of the Department, the labors in the office are materially increased. This increase is owing to the fact that it is expected by the department that the agents will send the vouchers prepared in their offices to the last Post-office address of each pensioner, so that he may take them to the nearest magistrate and make oath that the statement made therein by him are true (and by the way—the soldier is not required to verify or establish the official character of the magistrate unless the voucher is to be used out of the State), then return the voucher to the Pension Agent and receive from him a pension check payable to his order. By this rule it is believed much expense may be spared to the pensioner.

BRIEF JOTTINGS'—The four small pinnacles or spires surrounding the principal spire of the new High street church gives quite a foreign air to the building.—Work has recommenced on the Second Parish Church on Congress street.—The Decennial Anniversary on the formation of Machigonne Steam Fire Engine Company, No. 1, will be observed by appropriate ceremonies, we understand, to-morrow evening.—Yesterday was a beautiful day and warmer than Monday. There was another frost on Tuesday night.—Land's Opera Company are to give a series of operatic performances in Portland shortly.—We understand that Maggie Mitchell will probably perform in Deering Hall, and that three performances will be given instead of one.—We hear that there will be nearly three hundred instead of one hundred and fifty members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company visit Portland next week.—Col. Fred. Robie and H. Cousens, Esq., have been elected to the Oswego Convention from Gorham.—The Advertiser says that three innocent citizens entered the Superior Court yesterday afternoon to listen to the proceedings and suddenly found themselves drawn as talesmen on the jury.—The slating on the New Custom House was commenced yesterday.—Marshal Pierce, Esq., of the firm of O'Brion, Pierce & C., has gone on a fortnight's trip to Wisconsin.

HAGERS ALVEGONY.—We yesterday afternoon attended a rehersal of the beautiful musical specticle, which is to be performed to-night at City Hall, and can assure our readers that unless they attend they will be sure to miss a most delightful entertainment. It is something entirely different from the other spectacles which have been brought out by the various religious societies of this city, but it is sure to please all who witness it. The ladies who sing the various solo parts are possessed of unusually fine voices, while the choruses are given with great spirit. People who imagine they are merely going to hear little children sing are entirely mistaken. The performers embrace graduates from the High School, as well as the High School and Grammar School pupils, and we think that the entertainments will reflect great creadit not only upon the ladies and gentlemen who have labored faithfully in the drilling of the young actresses and actors, but upon our public schools also.

The people may labor under the impression that this performance is not what it pretends to be. We would say that from personal knowledge we know that the affair is under the patronage of the ladies of the Orphan Home and that the treasurer is one of our best known and most responsible citizens. We expect to see the house packed to overflowing to-night. Tickets and libretto's can be obtained at Twombly's music store during the day.

COL. J. S. WALKER, of Claremont, N. H., one of the Directors of the Bradford & Claremont Railroad, is staying at the Falmouth Hotel. He is an earnest friend of the Portland and Rutland connection, via Concord, and accompanied the Portland delegation from Concord to Rutland last summer, as chairman of the committee of arrangements. He now speaks confidently of the early completion of the entire line of road. The portion of the road between Bradford and Claremont, twenty-four miles in length, is now ready for the contractors, and a large portion of it is crossectioned and all ready for active operations. The remaining portion, between Claremont and Cavendish, promises as well. The Directors of the Concord and Rochester Railroad Company are actively at work. The engineers have completed the survey, and have reported that the road can be completed, ready for the rails, for $15,000 per mile. The necessary amount of money to pay for the entire completion and equipment of this road is fast being made up, The extension of the Portland & Rochester Railroad from Alfred to Rochester will soon be under contract, and the movement all along the line from Portland to Rutland and the West appears to be an earnest and successful one.

PREBLE CHAPEL TEA PARTY.—A very pleasant tea party came off last evening at the opening of the new rooms underneath the Preble Chapel, many friends of this charitable institution being in attendance and the evening was passed in a very agreeable manner. The children were also present and entertained their visitors with some nice music. These rooms have been put in an excellent condition and reflects much credit upon those who have had the matter in charge. The chapel above has recently been painted, and other improvements added, which give it a very neat appearance. Many ladies, young and old, connected with the Unitarian societies of this city, are very zealous for its advancement and success.—Rev. Mr. Field and his estimable lady will be much liked and will do all in their power for the spiritual good of those who are entrusted to their care.

THE R. B. SHERIDAN CLUB.—A number of the young men belonging to the Catholic S. S. Union have formed themselves into a Dramatic Club, with the above named title, and will open the season with a grand social assembly at Congress Hall, on Friday evening, October 1st. On last Thursday evening the Club met, and the following board of officers was elected for the ensuing three months: Acting Manager, T. F. Donahue; Stage Manager, B. C. Donahue; Secretary and Treasurer, A. McMahon; Standing Committee, Messrs. A. H. Larkin, B. C. Donahue, A. McMahon, E. Duddy, P. Downing. There is quite a field for these gentlemen to display their talents in this city, and we have no doubt the entertainments gotten up by them will be eminently successful.

PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT. — Everybody who has been so fortunate as to witness the performance of "Cinderella" and other operettas by the young people of the Swedenborgian Society, will be glad to learn that on the 13th proximo the same talented "artists" will exhibit at City Hall "The Immortal Fountain, or the Source of Beauty." A perusal of the libretto, written by a lady well known in Portland literary circles, has convinced us that the entertainment will certainly not be inferior to those previously given, especially as some of our most popular singers will give their assistance. Full particulars hereafter.

PERSONAL.—Hon. Neal Dow, of this city, will speak in Massahusetts, under the auspices of the Temperance Alliance, from the fifth of October until the election.

NEW YORK.

Forty or Fifty Members of the Gold Board Reported Failed.

FURTHER TROUBLE APPREHENDED.

Gold Sales at 130 to 132.

NEW YORK. Sept. 29.—The gold board adjourned at 10:20 this forenoon till half past 12.

The Tribune says the prolonged delay in the adjustment of accounts at the Gold Exchange Bank continues to embarrass business and keep up the painful suspense. It is believed that some forty or fifty members of the board have failed, but no one can say, and with the jugglery going on in accounts it is impossible to tell, until the balances are exposed to view, who is solvent and who is not. The feeling against the Gold Exchange Bank is justly deeper than at any previous time, and the general uncertainty in Wall street continues with an expectation on the part of many that there are still troubled times ahead of us.

The firms of C. A. Meigs & Son, and Fuller, Treat & Co., were announced as failed at the Stock Board this morning.

The government gold sale is postponed until to-morrow by order of Secretary Boutwell.

The failure of Sloane & Co. is announced in the Stock Exchange. There are rumors of quite a number more failures, among them that of Lockwood & Co.

The telegram says at ten o'clock the gold board met, when the chairman of the committee appointed appointed last evening to make Friday's clearances reported progress in respect to the work in hand. He stated that so far everything has advanced satisfactorily, that nearly all the statements were in and that without speaking in too strong terms of confidence of the result, he could say that there was every prospect of the conclusion of the work in the course of the day. What was required to expedite the work was prompt co-operation on the part of the members of the board sending in their statements. It rested with them to extend this, and the committee would spare no effort in doing the work that remains for them and bringing the officers of the Gold Exchange to satisfactory settlement. He was followed by a gentleman who stated that only 37 statements yet remained to be sent in. The board then took a recess to 12 o'clock, unless called together previously by the chair. Being still in executive session, all dealing between members continues stopped.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted yesterday afternoon, the National Stock Exchange was thrown open to dealers in gold, The first transaction was the sale of $50,000 at 1.30 1-2, after which the price fell off to 1.30; recovering later to 1.31; subsequent sales occurred of $10,000 at 1.31 1-8, $150,000 at 1.31, 20,000 at 1.31 3 8, and of $20,000 at 1-32. The Gold Exchange Bank is reported as having this morning notified the Bank Clearing House that they would not clear to-day but that all checks held by other banks upon them would be paid over the counter.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—Evening.—The stormy debate in the gold room alternates with the remarkable depression and buoyancy on the Stock Exchange. The stock failures and receiverships and injunctions form a group of events which make the day without an equal in the annals of Wall street. At 2 P. M. the Gold Exchange met in continuation of its executive session. A report was received from the committee of twenty, to the effect that statements had been received from all the dealers except Smith, Gould and Martin, and that the lack of their statement rendered impossible the completion of the clearings. After heated discussion the matter was referred back to the committee, with instructions to make up a statement from the tickets sent to dealers by Smith, Gould, Martin & Co., and report what in their view is the best course to be taken under the circumstances. The members of the committee stated that so far as could be judged the Room stood—"short," upwards of 6,000,000,000 dollars. A suggestion that Smith, Gould & Martin were willing to supply this gold at 135 cash, was warmly canvassed, and there was a general disinclination to accept the proposition. Smith, Gould & Martin have sued out an injunction against the president of the gold room, restraining him from selling any gold on their accounts. At 3:45 the Gold room again went into executive session, and the committee of twenty made the following report: The committee report: "We have placed the making up of Smith, Gould, Martin & Co.'s statements in the hands of competent accountants, and that we find it impossible to make a clearance, by reason of the absence of Smith, Gould, Martin & Co.'s authoritative statement. That we cannot recommend any plan for future action, except trading Ex-clearing House.—That we beg to be discharged after returning the certificates and tickets to the persons presenting them." This report of the committee of twenty was accepted.

After a heated debate as to the best course to be pursued, on motion of Mr. Underhill, it was resolved that the transactions of Friday be settled with the ex-clearing house. The meeting then adjourned till ten o'clock to-morrow morning. The meeting of the joint committee which represented the New York City Bank, the Clearing House, and the New York Gold Exchange Bank, which was held in the parlor of the Clearing House this morning, adjourned to this P. M. At this meeting the Gold Exchange Bank proposed to the Clearing House Committee that the other banks should advance 20 per cent. on $2,500,000 in gold paid by the Gold Exchange Bank yesterday and the day before on the settlement of their indebtedness at the Clearing House, which would enable them, the Gold Exchange Bank, to pay their entire indebtedness. The effect of this would be the release of other securities held by the committee, and give the Gold Exchange Bank about $300,000 in currency. Several banks have agreed to furnish the means to carry out this proposition, when it was learned that the bank had been put in the hands of a receiver, consequently negotiations were stopped. An injunction was granted by Judge Cardoza on the application of a person claiming to be a creditor of the bank. The application for a permanent receiver is returnable next Monday morning. In the mean time Mr. Augustus Brown of the law firm of Brown, Hall and Vanderpool has been appinted temporary receiver. The following resolution was passed to-day by the New York Stock Exchange:

Resolved, That the members of the New York Stock Exchange deal in gold in the long room until such time as the governing committee can perfect a plan for establishing a gold room under the government of this association.

The Stock Exchange later in the day passed a resolution to deal in gold in the hall of the old open board of stock brokers, dealings to begin at 10 o'clock to-morrow. The Express, last edition, says "It is stated at this moment that the gold room has resolved to open for business to-morrow; all transactions to be exclearing house." The correctness of this report is questionable.

THE CUBAN QUESTION.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Times' Paris correspondent asserts that there is but little hope of a compromise between Spain and the Cubans. The sentiments of both parties are heard in Paris. The Spanish government says in so many words, "lay down your arms and send deputies to the Cortes. If you desire independence, we don't say no. The matter may be arranged, but disarm. Spain's motto is nothing by compulsion.

WEST INDIES.

CUBA.

HAVANA, Sept. 29.—Gen. De La Torre arrived here to-night. He gives a flattering account of the progress of the Spaniards in suppressing the insurrection in the eastern department.

The Havana Journals, in discussing the recent note of Gen. Sickles, U. S. Minister to Spain, express a wish that he might occupy some post better adapted to his abilities than the present one. An attempt was lately made to raise the insurgent standard in the Vuelta Abajo region, but it proved a failure. Several Cubans in that section are presenting themselves to the Spanish authorities for pardon.

KEY WEST, Sept. 29.—Advices from Nassau, N. P., have been received. Five Cubans arrived there on the 22d from Gen. Quesada's camp. Gen. Quesada sent by them $20,000 to be expended for arms for the Cuban army.

The attack on Las Tunas was a victory for the Cubans. All of the Spaniards who could not get into the stronghold were taken prisoners and killed. Fifteen Spanish officers were taken prisoners and immediately shot.—Thousands of Comaquayans were around Puerto Principe, without arms. The Patriots were in good spirits. Important dispatches have been received here for the Cuban Junta in New York.

SOUTH AMERICA.

THE PARAGUAYAN WAR.—DEFEAT OF LOPEZ.

LISBON, Sept. 29.—The regular mail steamship from Rio Janeiro arrived to-day, bringing advices from the hostile armies in Paraguay up to the 23d of August. The news is highly important. On the 18th of that month the allied army attacked the army of President Lopez, which were intrenched at Curagualty. The Paraguayans were entirely defeated, losing one thousand in killed and three hundred prisoners. Twelve cannons were also captured by the allies. Lopez, with the remainder of his army, fled to Ignasion, a short distance away. On the 21st he was again attacked by the allies and again defeated, losing in the engagement 25 cannon. Count Den, General commanding the allies, at last advices was closely pursuing the fugitives. [Owing to the victories the Paraguayans were compelled to abandon all their steamers, and they subsequently fell into the hands of the allies. Forty-four of the british subjects who had lately been held in confinement by Lopez, were promptly liberated. The provisional government at Asuncion had declared Lopez an outlaw.

New York Stock and Money Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—Evening.—Towards 4 P. M. the Money market worked more easily, and, it is said, that loans were made at 7 per cent. currency. Discounts are entirely out of the question in the present condition of affairs. At 5.30 P. M. call loans were quoted at 7 per cent. Gold to ½ per cent. commissions. Foreign Exchange quiet with quotations more or less nominal in the unsettled condition of affairs in the Gold room; at 5.30 P. M. the rates was 108 for 60 day bills. Gold at 5.30 was quoted at 131½. Governments at the close were weak and lower. Henry Clewes & Co. furnish the following 4 20 quotations:

The total amount of bonds delivered to the Treasury to-day was $2,300,000, and the currecy disbursed therefor $2,668,009 in United States notes. This leaves $700,000 worth of bonds to be paid for to-morrow. These disbursements afforded some relief to the Money market.

Southern Securities have fluctuated considerably during the day, but on the whole prices were decidedly lower. The greatest decline was in North Carolina bonds, which sold down to 40 for special tax and 41 for new; Tennessees were sold as low as 51½ for new and 58½ for old.

In the Stock market this afternoon there has been a very active buying movement. The stocks held largely by Lockwood & Co. were especially strong. The Wool Market.

[Special Dispatch by International Line.]

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—[Reported for the Press.]—The following is a list of prices quoted this afternoon:—

Domestic—Ohio and Pennsylvania pick-lock 60 @ 65c; do choice XX 53 @ 56c; fine X 48 @ 50c; medium 48 @ 50c; coarse 46 @ 48c; Michigan extra and XX 46 @ 50c; fine 46 @ 48c; medium 46 @ 4 c; common 40 @ 46c; other Western fine and X 46 @ 49c; medium 46 @ 48c; common 43 @ 45c; pulled extra 40 @ 50c; superfine 40 @ 53c; No. 1 at 25 @ 40c; combing fleece 57 @ 65c; California 20 @ 30c ₱ lb. Foreign Wools—combing 75c; Smyrna washed 20 @ 40c, and unwashed 15 @ 22c; Buenos Ayres 26 @ 34c; Cape Good Hope 35 @ 40c; Chilian 22 @ 30c; Donoski 35 @ 40c; African unwashed 15 @ 18c ₱ lb.

Remarks—The demand is moderate for all kinds, except delaine and combing, which continue to hold at full previous prices. Holders are firm and desirable lots of straight fleeces could not be purchased except at full current rates. Manufacturers, it is believed, will operate more freely, as the demand for goods is quite active. Choice fine fleeces will all be wanted as consumption now runs on fine goods. The New York market for domestic Wool is without new features. The demand since our last has been restricted by the money pressure, and cash buyers, in some instance, have been enabled to obtain slight concessions from currens quotations. In foreign there is little or nothing doing, and prices are somewhat unsettled. The Philadelphia market has been exceedingly dull, owing in a measure to the stringent condition of the money market. The advance in gold and indisposition of the manufacturers to operate in the present depressed condition of the goods trade. There is considerable distrust, caused by recent failures, and holders of fine Wools are more anxious to realize.

Domestic Markets.

A Strange Story.

Many wonderful stories of mistaken identity have gone the rounds of the papers, and every few days another is added to more astonish and confuse the community. Many of our readers will remember the case which occurred in New York last winter when the body of a young lady was found in the North River, and was recognized by dozens of friends and acquaintances, not only by her general appearance, but by articles of clothing and a scar on one arm. The body was claimed by the parents and barried; but hardly were the funeral ceremonies over when the young lady herself, alive and well, appeared on the scene, creating as much excitement as if her disembodied ghost had walked into the family dining room and taken its place at the table. The name or history of the unknown dead was never discovered.

Another case has just occured in the same city. A little more than a week ago a woman was found in a dying condition on Cherry street and taken to Bellevue Hospital, where she lived but a few hours. Her name was given as Mrs. McCaffrey of Providence. After the death of Mrs, McCaffrey, her body was placed in the Morgue for identification. About that time Mrs. Ellen Davis of 242 East Fourteenth street, expected her mother, Mrs. Ann McCaffrey, from Providence, but her mother failing to appear, Mrs. Davis' apprehensions were aroused. On Saturday, Sept, 11, some one told Mrs. Davis that an aged woman, supposed to be Mrs. McCaffrey, lay dead in the Morgue. Thither she repaired with her sister, Mrs. McKeon, of 247 Avenue B. They identified the body as that of their mother and immediately made preparations for her funeral. Mrs. Davis telegraphed for her father, but the old gentleman, thinking that his daughter had reference to her mother-in-law's death, did not go on to New York. Again she telegraphed, but the family had by this time read the New York newspapers containing an account of the inquest. Of course they saw that an unknown dead woman had been mistaken for Mrs. McCaffrey. Thereupon Mrs. McCaffrey decided to go on and set her daughters right. The funeral took place last Monday, and on Tuesday Mrs. McCaffrey in her own proper person, appeared at her daughters' residence, and then reported herself at Bellevue Hospital. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. McKeon were of course overjoyed. They had spent over one hundred dollars on the funeral of their supposed deceased mother, whose identity is a deeper mystery than ever.

For Instance.

[From the N. Y. Evening Post.]

The democratic party, says the New York Leader, "has always been the party of retrenchment and economy in public affairs"—as, for instance, we may add in the federal administration of Buchanan, or in the management, by the democrats, of the affairs of this city.

It "has always been," adds the Leader, "the party in favor of maintaining the supremacy of constitutional guaranties"—as, for instance, we may add, in its encouragement of the slave-holding conspirators against the Union in 1860-61; or in its demand, at Chicago, in 1864, that the nation should treat with rebels in arms to overthrow the Constitution.

It "has always been the party of equal rights and equal taxation for all citizens," says the Leader. As, for instance, we may add, in its constant demand that colored citizens shall not vote on equal terms with the whites in this State—though the Democratic party will let them vote if they are worth money.

It "has always been opposed to centralization," says the Leader; "it has always been the party in favor of civil domination paramount to things military." As, for instance, when Buchanan sent troops into Kansas, to overawe the voters, and used his power as federal Executive to impose upon the people of Kansas a Constitution which they had rejected.

The democratic party was once the party of progress, of liberty, of equal rights, of humanity, of free trade, of decentralization, of economy; and while it was all that, it was victorious, because its principles appealed to the hearts of the American people, who always love liberty and justice. But a Democratic party whose leaders hide their principles—or lack of convictions—in long sentences, who profess vaguely and perform nothing, such a party will not very soon gain the suffrages of the country.

A CURIOUS DISCOVERY.—Among the vessels lost in the cyclone that swept over the Bay of Bengal in 1867, were the steamer Thunder and the ship Morayshire. Search was made for them, but no trace was discovered, and it was taken for granted that both had gone down at sea. The other day a party of fishermen, driven for shelter into an out-of-the-way creek some four miles inland, stumbled upon the hull of a ship, which proved to be the Morayshire, and further in found a larger steamer with masts and funnels still standing, which answer to the description of the Thunder. The steamer had one hundred and sixty-five thousand pounds sterling, which is doubtless in her bullion hold. Painful speculations are, of course, called up as to the fate of her crew and passengers. What that tale was may never be discovered. It is conjectured that they could not have lived long, even if they had survived the cyclone, as the place is malarious in the extreme, and infested with tigers. What is, perhaps, the strangest, is, that these vessels have been lying two years within a few miles of the mouth of the Hoogly.

THE NOVELTY

IS THE ONLY WRINGER THAT HAS THE

Patent Flange Cog-Wheels

ON BOTH ENDS OF THE ROLLS.

The cogs on one end of a roll are set relatively BETWEEN those on the other end of the SAME roll, virtually forming a and thereby nearly doubling the purchase. (The importance of setting gears in this position is not generally understood.)

Notwithstanding the rolls can separate freely at either end, the Cog-wheels CANNOT be thrown out of gear on both ends of the wringer at the same time, unless pressure is taken off.

The NOVELTY is fastened to a tub or box by a Patent Curved Clamp, which has an equal bearing on a tub the whole length of the Wringer. Other Wringers are merely fastened to a stave at each end, and are thus liable to wrench the staves from their proper position and ruin the tub.

The Cog-wheels, Thumb-screws, &c, are nicely galvanized.

WHAT ARE

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetned to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler onto drunkenness and rum, but are a true Medicine, made from the native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable cases, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

FOR INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, OR INDIGESTION, BILIOUS, REMITTENT, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.

These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the palate, but a medicine, made from, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
